ALL BROTHERS ENCOURAGED TO STAY INVOLVED

Now Is the Time to Connect with Chi Zeta

When we graduate from the University of Illinois, we all leave Lambda Chi Alpha with high hopes of keeping our fraternal bonds intact. Unfortunately, we quickly find that many new interests—careers, families, and civic activities—can create valid diversions. The day-to-day activities of life take over and, before long, we fall out of touch and begin to wonder what happened to our brothers.

Knowing that other commitments can often pull brothers in many different directions, the Alumni Association of Chi Zeta has formed several different committees in order to reconnect brothers and to engage with those who have become disconnected. This new committee structure, which is being led by the Board of Directors, includes more than 50 alumni from all eras of our chapter. It is our hope that these different committees will work in conjunction with the Board of Directors to inform alumni about Chi Zeta, plan various alumni events, and continue to analyze the best strategy to staying competitive with other housing options on campus.

We continue to seek volunteers from all generations for help on these committees. We have needs in finance, communications, strategic planning and organizing social activities. Volunteering on a committee is a great way to become reconnected to Chi Zeta and to work alongside brothers from all eras. Committee meetings usually take place by phone and via e-mail, so you don’t have to live in the Champaign area to be involved.

This is an exciting time to be a member of Lambda Chi Alpha. Please reach out to me or to any of the committee chairmen should you wish to get involved. A full roster of the present organization is on the back cover of this newsletter. Please take a look at it and let us know how you can hep!

Yours in ZAX,

Chi Zeta Introduces Active Chapter Mentoring Program

The alumni association is developing an active chapter mentoring program to connect undergraduates and recent graduates of Chi Zeta with alumni. The goal of the program is to provide professional and other resources to these brothers who are going into or recently entered the workforce.

Seth Ellis '02 X1700, member of the active chapter mentor committee, said, "Right now we are compiling a database of Chi Zeta alumni that will be a resource to these brothers. For example, if a graduating senior is looking to move to the Denver area, he can look up a mentor to ask about job hunting or good neighborhoods."

Alumni have a wealth of knowledge and experience that this program seeks to make more accessible to those who can benefit from it most. For minimal time commitment, you can provide guidance to Chi Zeta members. If you would like to get involved with the active chapter mentoring program, please contact Seth at sethellis83@gmail.com or visit our new website, www.illinilambdachi.com, to fill out a profile for our Lifetime of True Brotherhood.

BREAKING BREAD

Jeffrey Wandell '62 X785 Sees Sharing Meals as a Foundation for Brotherhood

One of the most important lessons Jeffrey Wandell '62 X785 learned from Lambda Chi Alpha is respect. "When you join an organization, the men become your brothers and you care for them even though they are different from you. You learn to like them and to know them, and that is what life is about, understanding where people come from and what they are trying to do."

Jeff earned a bachelor's degree in horticulture and a master's degree in advertising University of Illinois. He began his career in retail after receiving his bachelor's degree, opening Prairie Gardens in Champaign. The success of Prairie Gardens led to the opening of four more stores in Bloomington, Springfield, Peoria and Terra Haute, Indiana, all named Jeffrey Alans.

One of Jeff's favorite memories of his time in the chapter house is dining with the actives and pledges. "We were like a family at the end of the day," Jeff said. Pledges and actives intermixed, there weren't cliques, and they were all just brothers. He placed a high value on the brotherhood traditions like the Lambda Chi song after dinner and learning table etiquette. These moments were important for establishing brotherhood bonds. "We listened to each other, about that day, their lives, and future plans."

Jeff served as secretary of the chapter for two years, and feels that the fraternity is a tool to help young brothers become men. He learned how to be more social and handle himself in social situations, as well as the importance of hard work. "We worked really hard keeping the house looking good. Everybody worked together as a team."

The success of Chi Zeta during his undergraduate years helped give Jeff the confidence that he would be successful in his career. "There were all these people in the chapter doing great things, and I had a sense that there was a world beyond college that I was going to be a part of, and I was going to have a great life." Lambda Chi helped Jeff develop self-confidence to achieve great things.

Although Jeff's business acumen has allowed him to live in different parts of the country, he has remained invested in Champaign. He and his wife, Charlotte, have two sons; Morgan is the director of drama development at Amazon, and Michael is the vice president of corporate sponsorship for the NBA in China. Jeff enjoys skiing and art collecting and he is looking forward to the fall reunion event September 19-21 and seeing his brothers from the 1960s. "This event is important to our Chapter. It is wonderful to remember the past and bless the future." You can contact him at jawandell@aol.com.

Chapter Shows Strength

Members Excel in Recruitment, Academics, and Philanthropy

Chi Zeta continues on our mission to perform second to none. We are proud of the work that the officers are doing. The brotherhood remains strong, and we see great potential in the newest members and bond. Six members attended the Lambda Chi Alpha Stead Leadership Seminar in Memphis last summer. Four members attended both the fall 2013 and spring 2014 Midwestern Conclave meetings to represent Chi Zeta.

Membership Continues to Increase

The chapter had a successful recruitment with 29 newly initiated members in the fall and 12 associate members this spring. The process employed the effective use of the bid committee to recruit new members and identify core values. We had a large chapter involvement in all recruitment activities, including three-on-three basketball. High Delta Johnnie Nonnie '13 X2056 said, "Recruitment was an extremely strong point of Chi Zeta this year. Hosting events that appealed to brothers and potential new members produced a very welcoming environment. Using a bid committee to evaluate potential new members resulted in groups of quality young men that will be the future of Chi Zeta."

GPA on the Rise

Academics continued to improve this semester, with a fall GPA of 3.067. New initiatives were implemented this semester to improve chapter academics, including an in-house tutoring and mentorship program. High Sigma Scott Corbett '12 X2043 said, "Our chapter's GPA has been improving steadily for the past few semesters. We hope to continue this trend and raise our chapter GPA above the IFC average."

ALUMNUS CELEBRATED FOR SUCCESSFUL ARCHITECTURE CAREER

Spotlight on Jim Scheeler '45 X562

James A. Scheeler '45 X562 has had a world-class and celebrated career in the field of architecture, which began at the University of Illinois and Chi Zeta. Jim was proud to be a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, and he enjoyed singing in the choir with his brothers and serving as pledge master.

Something that stands out in Jim's memory from his time in the chapter house is the inscribed oak library table. "It gave one a sense of those who had lived within the chapter house; it and was a real gem. You won't find my name on it, but it was one of the things I remember seeing during recruitment and was impressed with during my time in the chapter," Jim said.

Jim received a bachelor of science degree in architecture with highest honors in 1951 and a master of science degree in architecture in 1952. In 1953 he was awarded both a Fulbright and the Francis J. Plym Fellowship in Architecture that permitted him to travel extensively in Europe and undertake graduate study in civic design and town planning in England. Following work as a design architect for the Chicago office of Skidmore, Owings & Merrill, he practiced architecture as a principal in Richardson, Severns, Scheeler & Associates, Champaign from 1959 until 1973. During that period Jim also served on both the undergraduate and graduate design faculty of the University of Illinois School of Architecture and was active in civic and professional affairs.

Jim's decision to join Lambda Chi Alpha was influential on his career. "As an architecture student, I became aware of the kind of facilities that produce environments that can enhance a student's living and study conditions. I put this to use when I got involved with student housing at U of I," Jim said. Two years ago Jim arranged for his family to take a tour of all the building on the University of Illinois campus that Richardson, Severns, Scheeler & Associates were a part of. The firm was integral in campus projects including campus housing, the expansion of the civil engineering program, the undergraduate library, and the music building.

A piece of advice Jim offers to the men of the chapter today is to take advantage of networking. "Every position I have ever had in my life I have had a supporter," Jim said. There was always someone there running interference for him because he built up his personal and professional network. "Young people need to be aware that the networks they build as students should be maintained and built upon. This can provide a platform supporting upper mobility."

Jim has often been recognized for his work in the field of architecture throughout his careers and a few stand-out as highlights. "The elevation to the College of Fellows was something I am very proud of. Then to be nominated and elected from the College of Fellows for the Kemper Award was a tremendous honor," Jim said. The Board of Directors of the AIA presented Jim with the Edward C. Kemper Award for distinguished service to the profession in 2000 and Jim served AIA in a number of senior executive positions, including executive vice president. He retired from the AIA staff in 1990 but continues to volunteer as resident fellow, international relations.

After being widowed in 1992, Jim married Nancy S. Kneece in 2007 and they reside in Reston, Virginia. Between Jim's three children and Nancy's two, the couple has 10 grandchildren, ranging from age 2 to 22. Although Jim doesn't have a lot of free time, he does enjoy their family vacations at Mount Desert in Maine each summer and has taken up his old hobby of sketching and painting. You can contact Jim at jscheeler@aia.org.

raised more than $500 for the Eastern Illinois Foodbank from our annual Watermelon Bust philanthropy event. This semester we will host a food drive and a donation competition in order to support both causes.

Thank You, Alumni

I thank all of the alumni who have been extremely supportive during this entire process. I extend a personal invitation to drop by the chapter house anytime to visit and check out Chi Zeta! Feel free to contact me with any questions, comments, or concerns.

Ben Seadler '14 Serves on Student Advisory Committee

Chi Zeta was proud to have the representation of Ben Seadler '14 X1974 on the national Student Advisory Committee (SAC). The SAC was formed in 1970 and reports directly to the Grand High Zeta. The SAC was formed to help the Lambda Chi Alpha staff and the Grand High Zeta stay in touch with undergraduate concerns and problems and to allow undergraduates to communicate directly with Lambda Chi Alpha's highest levels of international authority. The SAC has helped pass significant legislation and includes a representative from each Conclave who serves a one-year term. Each member of the Student Advisory Committee is elected at a meeting of their Conclave or regional group of chapters. The country is split into 12 Conclaves and there are 17 chapters in the Midwest Conclave.

Ben, a senior bioengineering major, said, "It has been a privilege to represent Chi Zeta and the Midwest Conclave in the meetings of the Grand High Zeta. My time as High Alpha of Chi Zeta definitely gave me the skills and experiences necessary to fulfill my duties on the Student Advisory Committee."

New Website Gives Opportunity for Better Engagement Alumni Encouraged to Visit Site

The Board of Directors is excited to announce the launch of a newly managed website. We have made the decision to enlist a third-party provider that can offer more flexibility and customization of the content, allowing more timely and relevant information to our members.

We will be looking to add content over the next year and envision this website to be the portal for prospective members, active brothers, and alumni to come together and find the information they need relating to Chi Zeta. In this day and age, we want to be more engaged with our members and need the content that we currently share via the Chi Zetagram, mailed correspondence, and other channels to be seamlessly accessible in a centrally managed digital platform. Some of this vision includes having all of you able to:

- Read articles on alumni and chapter news that has previously only been available only in print form.
- Find archived Chi Zetagram newsletters in PDF format.
- See the schedule of upcoming alumni events.
- Read and submit career and life updates for our ongoing alumni news section.
- Browse photo albums of our time in the chapter and alumni events.
- Ask questions and provide feedback to the Board of Directors.
- Take part in polls or provide thoughts on issues/concerns facing the chapter.
- Connect with others via established social networking platforms (e.g., LinkedIn, Facebook).

As we create this new experience, we will also be looking to ensure the right level of privacy is enabled with controlled access to different pieces of information. The bottom line is that we want to be more actively engaged and connected to each other, and we want this website to be one of the vehicles to better support you. When you have any questions related to Lambda Chi Alpha, we want this to be one of the first places you go to get those questions answered.

What else would you be interested in seeing on the website? We are open to feedback and would love to hear what additional functionality and capabilities could be of value. Please share any thoughts with communications committee chairman John Crook '72 X980 at john@crookmail.com.
